

|                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                |
|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| on-finished npmv2.4.1                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            | downloads315.8M/month                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              | node&gt;= 0.8                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   | ci success                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          |
| 1                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      | 2                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             | 3                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          | 4                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              |
| 8 }}error'd// err contains the error if request// clean up open fds, etc.onFinished(res, function (err, res) {  Listener is invoked as listener(err, res).  response, like open files.  used to close things associated with the  Listening to the end of a response would be  be invoked.  response has already finished, the listener will                                                                                              | 7 Attach a listener to listen for the responseto finish. The listener will be invoked onlyonce when the response finished. If theresponse finished to an error, the firstargument will contain the error. If the onFinished(res, listener)var onFinished = require('on-finished')onFinished(res, listener)           | 6 Execute a callback when a HTTP requestcloses, finishes, or errors.This is a Node.js module available throughthe npm registry. Installation is done usingthe npm install command:$ npm install on-finished Install                                                                                                        | 5 coverage100% certain operations if the request has alreadyfinished.Special Node.js requestsHTTP CONNECT methodThe meaning of the CONNECT method fromRFC 7231, section 4.3.6:The CONNECT methodrequests that the recipientestablish a tunnel to the                                                             |
| 6 onFinished(req, listener)Attach a listener to listen for the request tofinish. The listener will be invoked only oncewhen the request finished. If the requestfinished to an error, the first argument willcontain the error. If the request has alreadyfinished, the listener will be invoked.Listening to the end of a request would beused to know when to continue after readingthe data.Listener is invoked as listener(err, req). | 10 var data = ''req.setEncoding('utf8')req.on('data', function (str) {  data += str})onFinished(req, function (err, req) {  // data is read unless there is err})                                                                                                                                                               | 11 onFinished.isFinished(res)Determine if res is already finished. Thiswould be useful to check and not even startcertain operations if the response has alreadyfinished.onFinished.isFinished(req)Determine if req is already finished. Thiswould be useful to check and not even start                                                                                     | 12 13destination origin serveridentified by the request-target and, if successful,thereafter restrict itsbehavior to blind forwardingof packets, in bothdirections, until the tunnel isclosed. Tunnels arecommonly used to create anend-to-end virtualconnection, through one ormore proxies, which can |
| 16 In Node.js, these request objects comefrom the 'upgrade' event on the HTTPserver.When this module is used on a HTTPrequest with an Upgrade header, the requestis considered "finished" immediately, due tolimitations in the Node.js interface. Thismeans if the Upgrade request contains a                                                                                                                                                           | 15 the request will be considered "finished" evenbefore it has been read.There is no such thing as a response objectto a CONNECT request in Node.js, so there isno support for one.HTTP Upgrade requestThe meaning of the Upgrade header fromRFC 7230, section 6.1:The "Upgrade" header fieldis intended to provide a | 14 then be secured using TLS(Transport Layer Security,[RFC5246]).In Node.js, these request objects comefrom the 'connect' event on the HTTPserver.When this module is used on a HTTPCONNECT request, the request is considered"finished" immediately, due to limitations inthe Node.js interface. This means if theCONNECT request contains a request entity, |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                |

|                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    |                                                                                     |    |
|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----|
| request entity, the request will be considered “finished” even before it has been read. There is no such thing as a response object to a Upgrade request in Node.js, so there is no support for one. Example The following code ensures that file descriptors are always closed once the response finishes. | <pre>var destroy = require('destroy') var fs = require('fs') var http = require('http') var onFinished = require('on-finished')  http.createServer(function onRequest (req, res) {   var stream =     fs.createReadStream('package.json')   stream.pipe(res)   onFinished(res, function () {</pre> | <pre>destroy(stream)   }) })</pre> License MIT |    |
| 17                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             | 18                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 | 19                                                                                  | 20 |
| 24                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             | 23                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 | 22                                                                                  | 21 |
|                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    |                                                                                     |    |
|                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    |                                                                                     |    |
| 25                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             | 26                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 | 27                                                                                  | 28 |
| 32                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             | 31                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 | 30                                                                                  | 29 |
|                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    |                                                                                     |    |